Chaos in the Keep

Zargon and his minions have been causing more trouble lately. So I need you to find someone by the name of Lord Blackthorn, he may know one thing or two on how to defeat Zargon, he can be found at Drakemoors Keep, but you must hurry I fear a dark cloud is hovering above the keep as we speak. His location in the keep may be hard to find so look very well. Be safe Heroes for you may be our last hope.

NOTES:

- X This is a breakable wall, one damage will break it.
- A The door that you came in has now been sealed shut by a mystic force.
- B The Chaos Warriors in this room are statues and will not attack. If a Hero searches for treasure, they will find 200 gold coins in the tomb.
- C This Dark Warrior is trained in magic. He knows the Rock Skin and Heal Body Spells.
- D These chests each contain 50 gold coins and a Potion of Healing (1d6).
- E This is Lord Blackthorn's lab. When the Heroes enter, Blackthorn welcomes them and speaks. "I have heard of your deeds good Heroes you are welcome here any time, but now is not the time for pleasantries, you need to take my key and enter the throne room, there you will find Thorn-Brick, a foul beast that is behind the darkness that surrounds us now slay him and then I will tell you all I know" You get the key.

- F The Gargoyle is Thorn-Brick. His stats are:

MOVEMENT	ATTACK	DEFEND	BODY	MIND
8	5	4	6	4

- G The Minotaur in this room has the following stats:

MOVEMENT	ATTACK	DEFEND	BODY	MIND

When Thorn-Brick is slain Lord Blackthorn enters the room he laughs and says, "fools I have tricked you the monster that you just killed was indeed the real Lord Blackthorn for I Zargon am now going to stop you once and for all." Just then Zargon charges a plasma blast and launches it at you, but just as it is about to hit a wall of blue fire surrounds you and the blast subsides, then right before your own eyes the flames begin to manipulate and form then Mentor appears before you, "Heroes I have saved you for an ungodly fate. I fear that we will never know the secrets that Blackthorn had known."
